Seventeenth Sunday in Ordinary Time, Year A

30 July 2023

First Reading 1 Kgs 3:5.7-12

You have asked for wisdom.

The Lord appeared to Solomon in a dream and said, 'Ask what you would like me to give you.' Solomon replied, 'Lord, my God, you have made your servant king in succession to David my father. But I am a very young man, unskilled in leadership. Your servant finds himself in the midst of this people of yours that you have chosen, a people so many its numbers cannot be counted or reckoned. Give your servant a heart to understand how to discern between good and evil, for who could govern this people of yours that is so great?' It pleased the Lord that Solomon should have asked for this. 'Since you have asked for this' the Lord said 'and not asked for long life for yourself or riches or the lives of your enemies, but have asked for a discerning judgement for yourself, here and now I do what you ask. I give you a heart wise and shrewd as none before you has had and none will have after you.'

Responsorial Psalm

Ps 118:57. 72. 76-77. 127-130. R. v.97

(R.) Lord, I love your commands.

1. My part, I have resolved, O Lord, is to obey your word.
The law from your mouth means more to me than silver and gold. (R.)
2. Let your love be ready to console me by your promise to your servant.
Let your love come to me and I shall live for your law is my delight. (R.)
3. That is why I love your commands more than finest gold.
That is why I rule my life by your precepts:
I hate false ways. (R.)
4. Your will is wonderful indeed; therefore I obey it.
The unfolding of your word gives light and teaches the simple. (R.)

Second Reading Rom 8:28-30

He predestined us to become true images of his Son.

We know that by turning everything to their good God co-operates with all those who love him, with all those that he has called according to his purpose. They are the ones he chose specially long ago and intended to become true images of his Son, so that his Son might be the eldest of many brothers. He called those he intended for this; those he called he justified, and with those he justified he shared his glory.

Gospel Acclamation See Mt 11:25

Alleluia, alleluia!

Blessed are you, Father,

Lord of heaven and earth;

you have revealed to little ones the mysteries of the kingdom.

Alleluia!

Gospel Mt 13:44-52

(or shorter form Mt 13:44-46)

He sells everything he owns and buys the field.

Jesus said to the crowds, 'The kingdom of heaven is like treasure hidden in a field which someone has found; he hides it again, goes off happy, sells everything he owns and buys the field.

'Again, the kingdom of heaven is like a merchant looking for fine pearls; when he finds one of great value he goes and sells everything he owns and buys it.

'Again, the kingdom of heaven is like a dragnet cast into the sea that brings in a haul of all kinds. When it is full, the fishermen haul it ashore; then, sitting down, they collect the good ones in a basket and throw away those that are no use. This is how it will be at the end of time: the angels will appear and separate the wicked from the just to throw them into the blazing furnace where there will be weeping and grinding of teeth.

'Have you understood all this?' They said, 'Yes.' And he said to them, 'Well, then, every scribe who becomes a disciple of the kingdom of heaven is like a householder who brings out from his storeroom things both new and old.'

Reflection by Greg Sunter

The twin parables of today's gospel – the treasure in the field and the pearl of great value – reveal a paradoxical truth about the kingdom of Heaven. Throughout the gospels, Jesus presents the kingdom as 'now but not yet'; as 'present but future'. This paradox is captured in these twin parables. In both cases, the kingdom is likened to something of great value that is discovered but cannot be immediately grasped. In both parables, the finder must go away and sell everything so that they can eventually come to possess the treasure they have discovered.

By comparing this experience with the kingdom of Heaven, Jesus suggests that most of us can only ever catch glimpses of what it means to live in the kingdom. For most of us, only in the future reality of heaven will we ever fully come to understand the kingdom. However, those glimpses that we catch – those moments of inspiration and connection with God and with one another – are like the treasures of the parables. They are enough to inspire us to do what it takes to make sure that we will one day enter into that kingdom reality.

The third parable of this gospel passage reveals yet another truth about the kingdom. The dragnet thrown into the sea is like the message of Jesus – it is flung far and wide and does not discriminate about where it falls or on whom it falls. This parable rounds out the chapter that began with the parable of the sower and the image of casting the net is a neat parallel to the indiscriminate casting of seed. It is not up to the one who casts the net, the seed or the Word. Rather it is up to each individual to determine how they will respond to receiving the Word.

Carrying Forward the Plenary Council Online Workshops

Dr Chris Cotter and Leslie Cooper will be facilitating two online workshops focusing on the findings from the Plenary Council and the ways we can implement actions to support the commitments agreed to at the Council. These online sessions will start and end in prayer and invite participants to read and reflect on the decrees and share and listen to thoughts and ideas - a process consistent with that used at the Plenary Council.

Choose either an evening session on Tuesday 8 August 7.00 – 8.30 pm, or a morning session on Wednesday 9 August 9.00 – 10.30 a.m.

This event is free to all. You must register to receive Zoom login details. To register go to:

What a wonderful celebration for Monsignor Peter Jeffrey's 60th Anniversary of Ordination.

We at St Brendan's are honoured to share in this momentous occasion.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF COUNTRY

We turn our hearts and minds to the people of the Yorta Yorta nation, who have occupied this country for thousands of years. We pay respects to their Elders, past, present and emerging, and commit to walking alongside Aboriginal Australians in truth and justice.

It can sometimes feel like we're "running on empty" in the spiritual life. Ignatian spirituality offers a plethora of ways for us to re fill our cups.

1. Community

Find community in a faith community. St. Ignatius learned that he was most healthy, both spiritually and psychologically, when he was travelling with companions on the path. As such, community was an essential part of his plan for the Society of Jesus. We too need the nourishment of a community in which we can live our faith authentically. Such communities foster a sacred respect for each member and gratitude for the diversity of gifts that each individual brings to the table.

In loving communities of faith, we experience the Holy Spirit working in powerful ways and get a taste of what it might mean to bring the Kingdom of God to earth.

The Serra Club Mass will be held Friday August 4, at 7.00pm. Weekly adoration will continue until 7.00pm. We pray for our priests and for more vocations. This Friday is also the feast of St John Vianney, the patron Saint of priests, so it's a special day. There will be a cuppa in the MPJC afterwards. All welcome.

Faith and Light will meet Sunday, August 6, at 12.00pm in the MPJC.

The Second Vatican Council emphasised the importance of Catholics spending time in prayer and dialogue with other Christians. On Wednesday, August 16, at 7.30pm a combined prayer service will be held in St Brendan's Catholic Church. The night will include a Liturgy of the Word service, music and fellowship with refreshments afterwards. We need your support for this occasion please as we extend hospitality to our brothers and sisters of other Christian Churches. Ministers of other Christian Churches in Shepparton will be attending with their parishioners. Please mark this date in your diary. God bless, Fr Joe and Fr Jackson.

Great work for God's families.

On Wednesday of this week Laura O'Sullivan finished her work as our Sacramental Co-Ordinator, a role which she has fulfilled for the last 14 years here at St Brendan's Parish.

She has helped about 1100 families to celebrate the sacraments of Initiation: Baptism, Confirmation and First Eucharist. The children have come from our Catholic and Government schools.

Laura has done this with great faith, great professionalism, great expertise and great energy. Passing on faith is so central to Christianity; Pope Francis calls us all to be missionary disciples. Laura has facilitated this so well.

We wish her a happy retirement from this job; Laura wears so many other hats (especially the one of Nonna) and is involved in so many other enterprises. She has worked admirably with our staff and will be missed very much.

My words cannot express my gratitude to her. Laura, may you enjoy your retirement and a grateful thanks from us all. Fr Joe

World Youth Day

35 pilgrims from across the Sandhurst Diocese begin their World Youth Day (WYD) pilgrimage on Saturday, July 29.

The program includes festivals, the Papal welcome, Stations of the Cross and a pilgrimage to the WYD Vigil and final Mass, among other things. There are 11 young adults connected with St Brendan's Parish in one way or another taking part in the pilgrimage. This includes four staff from Notre Dame College, two teachers from St Luke's Primary School and six others connected with St Brendan's Parish. Please keep us in your prayers. God bless, Fr Jackson Saunders. WYD Chaplain.
